Ambitious enthusiast of programming and learning about new technologies. I am constantly expanding my knowledge gained during the programming course, especially in JavaScript. I would like to use my knowledge and charisma to develop as a programmer in your team. I easily find myself in a teamwork, and I perform individual tasks to perfection.

I am open minded, fast learner and I easily find myself in a new environment, also international, which I could taste during my one-year work in Iceland. In my spare time, I focus on a good book and meetings with friends.
